BRAND & CONSUMER EXPERIENCE · MILAN FLAGSHIP LAUNCH

A flagship launch is a brand's first test in public.

ARKET is H&M Group's premium line. Its Milan flagship is the store the whole position has to hold up against. The scope of this role: the brand and the consumer experience around the launch — what a first-time visitor takes away before they buy anything.

Positioning is not a document. It is what a person says the brand is after one visit — and whether the store agrees with the claim.

ROLE	Brand & Consumer Experience, ARKET (H&M Group). Milan flagship launch. The question the role answered: does the store communicate the position the brand claims, or a different, weaker one?
PROOF	Inside LVMH Certificate — Creation & Branding; Retail & Customer Experience. Method grounded in how a luxury house builds position, then applied to the scale a small founder actually has.
METHOD	Research first, then position: market research, UX research, working with the company's own people, then the message the store, the site and the team can all defend in one sentence.
